COTTON TRADE WITH CUBA IS NOT SO LARGE.

Washington, April 29.-In a recent statement given to the press by the division of insular affairs of the war department a considerable loss was indicated in the trade of Cuba with the United States for the first 8 months of 1900 as compared with the same period of 1899. It is delegates to numerous State conventions. Maj. T. W. Eliminating the Tax-payers' Convention, which coin shipments it is ascertained made an ineffectual appeal to that instead of there being a decrease in the value of the imports into Cuba from the United States, there is an increase of $1,222,205 for the first eight months of 1900 over the same period of 1899.

It is pointed out that American manufacturers cannot expect to dominate the Cuban trade unless they cater to Cuban tastes. This Sam'l W. Yongue from 1797 to is true of cotton goods. Although it was evident that THE STATE SUMMER SCHOOL FOR NEGROES.

> The following announcement as tendent of education:

will be held at Benedict college beginning June 20 and closing July 17. The object of this school, among the negro race for positions of leadership in education; and selections have been made from among the ablest school tions have more than 2,000 stusuperintendents in the State to teach in this school. The faculty will consist of Mr. S. H. Edmunds of Sumter, as principal; Superintendents E. C. Coker of Marion, L. T. Baker of Lancaster, and Prof. D. D. Wallace of Wofford college. In addition to these, a course in drawing will be given by Miss Getz, supervisor of drawing in the Charleston schools, and a course in manual training by Mrs. Johnson, who has given such a course in the Charleston schools the past year.

Arrangements have been made with the authorities of Benedict college to have the boarding department, the dormitaries and dining hall of that institution open to students of the summer school. The cost of board will be $9 for the four weeks, and everything will be made as pleasant and as comfortable as possible for those who attend."

Superintendent McMahan has planning this school for been some time, and has given much thought to it. Apart from the question of imparting scholarship and teaching ability to the teachers, he states his main object thus: "To give to the negroes the encouraging assurance that the controling educational forces in the State are not indifferent to his welfare and are not content to leave him to his own unaided efforts; to prevent the widening of the chasm between the white people and the negroes; to remove prejudices and misunderstand-ings; to extend to the weaker race the encouraging aid of the stron-

In announcing the second term of this school Superintendent McMahan desires to state three specific reasons why ambitious negro teachers should attend:

First. To increase their scholarship and skill as teachers and to learn how they measure up to the standard of the best educators among the white people.

"Second. To make known their ability and merits to the leading school superintendents in the State, whose knowledge and recommendations would prove most helpful to the negro teachers seeking to be employed in the graded schools of the towns.

Third. To get the white man's point of view in educational matters, and thus enlarge the mental horizon."

KEEP THEM SEPARATED .- The Philadelphia Record tell a story of a little girl whose evening prayers are very detailed. First she says the Lord's prayer, then the one beginning "Now I lay me down to sleep," and then comes: "God bless grandpa and grandma, and papa and mama, and Uncle George and Uncle Charlie, and Aunt Kate," and so on, ad in-finitum, until all the members of the family are included. Then she says, "Amen," and quickly adds "And God bless Mary." After she had finished the other night her mother asked her why she always said, "Amen," first, and then always added, "God bless Mary," as though it were a postscript. "Well, you know, mama," replied the tot, "I didn't want to get her mixed up with you ladies!" It may be unnecessary to add that Mary is the nursemaid.
